

FOR SALE.

OFFICE PARTITION AND RAILINGS.
Special Department for Repairing,
Refinishing Desks and Chairs.

J. FLEMING DUTCHES
55 Nassau Lane,
Brooklyn.

New and second hand of all kinds and makes; sales bought and sold; repairs and refinishing.

SAFES — New and second hand of all kinds and makes; sales bought and sold; repairs and refinishing.

COUNTERS and safes with drawers also suitable for electric supply or hardware store; lot of old safes, doors, etc., suitable for city or country building or alteration work.

check: PINE BROOK, 28 Central.

TYPEWRITERS — 6 months rent applied on purchase. General Type, Ex. 243 E.Way.

DESKS — Roll top, partitions, railings, tables, etc. Letter presses, counters, shelving, stores, offices fitted. 5500 sq. ft. PINE BROOK, 28-32 Central.

SAFES — STIFFEL & FREEMAN, Mfrs. Steel Safes. All made cheap. 18 Nassau St., near Broadway.

HIPS — WANTED — MALE.

A NUMBER of capable young women stenographers for temporary and permanent positions. Call The Oliver Typewriter Company, 210 Broadway.

CLERICAL — Bookkeeper, $1,000. Clerk, $700.

Secretary, $900. Correspondent, $1,000. Bookkeeper, $1,200.

DRIVERS — Experienced men for all branches of technical work; salaries $750-$1,000.

SALES-MEN — Grocery, $1,200. Chinaware, $600.

Laces, $1,000. Men's Wear, $1,200. Dry Goods, $1,000. Call or write to-day.

HAGGARDS — 307 Broadway, N. Y.

CARPENTERS wanted for contracts forming long jobs. $10 per day, $100 weekly, $1000 monthly. Apply NEW YORK COAL POCKET, foot of Water St., Hartford Conn.

WANTED — An experienced magazine man to take the advertising control and business management of a monthly periodical, having a circulation of 10,000. Address A. B. C. P. O. Box 600, Bklyn.

CORRESPONDENT for prominent house; able to handle collections; salary $600. Call BUSINESS OFFICES, 100 Broadway.

CAPABLE young men stenographers for temporary and permanent positions. Call The Oliver Typewriter Company, 210 Broadway.

WANTED — Short straw cigar makers. PETTERSON HARNES & SADDLERY CO., 86 West Broadway.

SITUATIONS WANTED — MALE.

LEATHER and shoe findings trade; 20 years experience. Address: 100 Broadway, 2nd floor, in a whole stock showings house. H. A. W. box 125 Sun office.

SALESMAN with good line wants salary position with commission. Furniture house. M. box 125, Sun up town office, 1255 Broadway.

ANGRY SUITOR SHOOTS THREE

Tried to Kill the Girl He Loved and Wounded Three Bystanders.

Because Terese Lodito, a comely Italian dressmaker of 147 West 100th street, declined to marry Salvator Deve, a Sicilian who won't tell where he lives, and because Salvator can make love better than he can shoot, three out of four bullets from the gun Terese yesterday morning struck bystanders, and Terese escaped unharmed. The victims were Abraham Nefsky of 97 Varick street, shot in the abdomen; Calagaro Faraco of 129 West 100th street, shot in the right thigh; and Elizabeth Diegan of the same address, shot in the left leg.

The shooting occurred almost in front of the West 100th street police station. Deve had concealed himself in an alley which he knew the girl would pass on her way to work. When she reached the place with the Diegan woman Deve jumped in front of her and shouted:

"If you won't marry me, I'll never marry anyone else."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

The three injured persons lay on the street and followed the Italian with the gun into Columbus avenue. Before they caught up some one tripped Deve and he went headlong. Devry landed on his back before he could arise and grabbed his gun.

An ambulance took Nefsky and Faraco to the West Side Hospital while the Diegan girl's wound was dressed in the station house. Both men left the hospital later in the day, although the surgeons advised Faraco to remain.

Deve was held without bail in the West Side police court on a charge of felonious assault.

BURGLARS LEAVE SILVER PLATE,

But Take Papers Which Are of Importance in a Will Contest. §

WHITE MOUNTAINS.

A 20 page booklet descriptive of White Mountain scenes free to any address. E. A. CORBETT, Jr., 202 Westminster St., Providence, R. I.

Where the Bass and Trout Hide!

Our little booklet on "FISHING and SHOOTING" not only tells you where bass and trout, but other game fish abound. It also tells of the FINEST HUNTING GROUNDS on the American Continent. Copies Free.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

E. V. SKINNER, A. T. M.

1 and 458 Broadway and 281 Fifth Ave.

NEW YORK

Long Island.

Manhattan Beach

Manhattan Beach Hotel

T. F. SILLECK, Manager.

THE ORIENTAL HOTEL

JOS. P. GREAVES, MANAGER

A SUMMER RESORT

"Where Cooling Breezes Blow."

LONG ISLAND

The ideal resort for an outing; 250 miles of coastline on ocean, sound and bays.

"LONG ISLAND HUMMING BIRD HOTEL" a hotel of 100 rooms, 25000 square feet, postage due.

SALES-MEN — Grocery, $1,200. Chinaware, $600.

Laces, $1,000. Men's Wear, $1,200. Call or write to-day.

SALES-MEN — Capable young man of good address having established trade on system supplies; writing experience, etc. MANUFACTURER, P. O. Box 1800.

CORRESPONDENT for prominent house; able to handle collections; salary $600. Call BUSINESS OFFICES, 100 Broadway.

CAPABLE young men stenographers for temporary and permanent positions. Call The Oliver Typewriter Company, 210 Broadway.

WANTED — Short straw cigar makers. PETTERSON HARNES & SADDLERY CO., 86 West Broadway.

SITUATIONS WANTED — MALE.

LEATHER and shoe findings trade; 20 years experience. Address: 100 Broadway, 2nd floor, in a whole stock showings house. H. A. W. box 125 Sun office.

SALESMAN with good line wants salary position with commission. Furniture house. M. box 125, Sun up town office, 1255 Broadway.

ANGRY SUITOR SHOOTS THREE

Tried to Kill the Girl He Loved and Wounded Three Bystanders.

Because Terese Lodito, a comely Italian dressmaker of 147 West 100th street, declined to marry Salvator Deve, a Sicilian who won't tell where he lives, and because Salvator can make love better than he can shoot, three out of four bullets from the gun Terese yesterday morning struck bystanders, and Terese escaped unharmed. The victims were Abraham Nefsky of 97 Varick street, shot in the abdomen; Calagaro Faraco of 129 West 100th street, shot in the right thigh; and Elizabeth Diegan of the same address, shot in the left leg.

The shooting occurred almost in front of the West 100th street police station. Deve had concealed himself in an alley which he knew the girl would pass on her way to work. When she reached the place with the Diegan woman Deve jumped in front of her and shouted:

"If you won't marry me, I'll never marry anyone else."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about. Terese continued toward Columbus avenue with the gun in her hand and shouting:

"The shots attracted Capt. Caron, Sergt. Devry and the police men in the house."

He was opened fire and the Diegan girl fell at the first shot. Terese screamed and ran for the station house steps. Deve fired at her and hit Nefsky, who dropped. The girl then ran away from the police station and hid in a nearby street. Deve followed her and pulled the trigger again. This time hit Faraco, who had run out of his barber shop to see what the shooting was about.